By Captain SCOTT, arrived at Boston, and Captain COUPAR, arrived at New-York, both from London, we have the following Advices, viz.

A L E P P O, July 12.
THE last accounts from Bassora and Bagdad, are very afflicting, as they mention that the Plague has carried off 100,000 people in the former of those two places, and more than twice that number in the latter.

Constantinople, Aug. 1. The disagreeable intelligence has just arrived here, of the Russians having possessed themselves of the town of Asoph, at the mouth of the river Don, in the following manner: The Empress of Russia had a Squadron of men of war and frigates in the Palus Maotis, or the sea of Asoph, which Squadron landed their men in several parts, and committed great depredations, which induced the Sublime Porte to send a fleet into that sea, in order to put a stop to such proceedings. This fleet consisted of a large number of galleys, with two 50 gun ships, and three frigates, who arrived in the Palus Maotis, fell in several times with the Russians, and engaged with various success. At last the Russian Commander formed a design of landing his men, to take the town of Asoph; which being known to the Turks, they prepared to oppose it, in consequence of which a general battle ensued. The Turks had manifestly the advantage in point of situation, as they were within the Russian fleet; and fought in a manner under the cannon of Asoph, but the Russians having the advantage of a wind, drove in with the Turkish galleys, who were a-head, and caused much confusion; however, one of the men of war and two of the frigates coming up, gave the galleys some relief, and maintained the fight with great obstinacy, but at last the superior weight of the Russian metal prevailed, six of the galleys were sunk, and three, with one of the frigates, taken; the two men of war, the two frigates, and the rest of the galleys, made their escape out to sea, whither the Russians did not think proper to follow them. The Russian Commander immediately sailed into the river, and landed his men a little above Asoph, on the eastern side of the river, took possession of that important place with very little resistance. The Divan was directly called together when this intelligence arrived, and the result of the conference is, to endeavour at all events the retaking of Asoph.

Vienna, Aug. 22. Notwithstanding it has been reported here, that the Turks had passed the Danube, and routed part of General Romanzow's army, which is encamped at the mouth of the river Jalonizza, we are assured that the Ottomans never made the least attempt to pass the Danube. These letters are dated July 27.

Riga, Sept. 2. Her Imperial Majesty has ordered the dock-yards of this place to be enlarged and repaired, for the purpose of building some first and second rate ships of war. The mole is to be run further into the sea, some new batteries, magazines, store-houses, &c. are to be built, and in short all the fortifications and works are to be greatly strengthened and augmented, as her Majesty means to make it the finest port in her dominions.

There are two 90 gun ships nearly finished here, on Sir Charles Knowles's new plan, which will be two of the finest ships in the north of Europe.

Vienna, Sept. 1. A Lieutenant of the Russian Hussars has just arrived here, with the intelligence of a fresh action which has passed in Moldavia, between a body of the Turks, consisting of about 3000 men, and a detachment of 2500 Russians, who were sent from Marshal Romanzow's army to take possession of the town of Braila, on the river Bardalach, but were opposed in their way by the Turks, when, after a severe engagement, victory declared in favour of the Russians, 400 of the Turks being killed, and 600 taken prisoners.

Berlin, August 3. The military preparations making by our Court are carried on with greater vigour than ever; besides the troops of the Duchies of Wirtemberg, Saxe-Gotha, and Mecklenburgh Schwerin, his Majesty has taken into his service six regiments belonging to the Cantons of Zurich and Bern, in Switzerland; and all the old regiments are recruited with fresh men, and the disabled discharged. Very large magazines of corn, and grain of all kinds, are laid up in Polish Prussia and Silesia. Ammunition is very scarce, and at a very high price, on account of the very extraordinary demand. The Elector of Saxony has fallen into disgrace with our Monarch, on account of the assistance which he has afforded the Emperor in filling his magazines, and providing him with ammunition. An account has been taken of the number of persons fit to bear arms in the new acquired dominions, which prove about 40,000, all of whom are to be embodied into regiments both of horse and foot, and horses are buying up to remount the old cavalry.

Jaffa (in Moldavia) August 6. The Turkish army are at this time passing the river Danube, under the command of the Grand Vizir himself, near the confines of Bessarabia, in the following order; the Wallachian and Moldavian auxiliaries, together with the Tartars, and 4000 horse, in one column, under the command of the Waivode of Wallachia, and the Tartar General; another column, under the command of Ninman Pacha, consisting of 12,000 foot, and the whole body of the Spahis, called Silachtari; the largest column, which is passing between the other two, and is composed of the Janissaries, and the other body of Spahis, called Spahoghlari, under the command of the Grand Vizir himself, and the Aga of the Janissaries. Marshal Count Romanzow has used, and is still using, all his endeavours to hinder their crossing, but it is thought all his efforts will prove in vain, the Turks having taken such great precautions before they began the attempt, towards Oblucice, in Bessarabia, they have the advantage of a body of 6000 of their own people to defend, who have extended in a line, and built several batteries, which effectually secure them on that part. Their heavy artillery, with the engineers, and some bodies of the Janissaries, are already over, and have entrenched themselves securely, so as to cover the passing of the other troops in front, and they have the river Pruth on the left, the branches of which are so well defended, that it will be madness to attack them on that side. All that Count Romanzow can do, is, to hinder them from getting of any town or fortified place, which is their intention, and which the Russians will certainly oppose with all their power; the place which the Turks have an eye to is Muluth, a town of some strength, about 20 leagues before they arrive at this city from the Danube. The Marshal is sensible of their design, and has already thrown a great number of men into the town, and intends to put himself at the head of the main body of his army, between it and the Turks. In the mean time two flying armies of Cossacks and Hussars are sent out to harass the Turks in their march, and to prevent, if possible, their advance far into Moldavia, as it may be attended with ill consequences to the Russians; as, should the Turks regain possession of Moldavia and Wallachia, the Russian arms would meet with but little success; and experience has taught, that that where the Turks once gain re-possession now, it is a difficult matter to drive them out again.

Dantzic, August 20. A letter from Paris, dated September 3, says, that their Gazette, which is published by authority, has the following paragraph: "The alliance, offensive and defensive, concluded between the united powers, seems to have other views than the guaranteeing the division of Poland to each other, but nothing of it transpires." By which we learn that the French cannot penetrate into their designs.

Vienna, August 20. Letters from the Russian army say, that Field Marshal Romanzow is under the greatest uneasiness, touching the fate of his son, who accompanied him in his expedition beyond the Danube, and of whom he has never heard since.

Hague, August 28. The project for augmenting our land forces is to be executed, not by forming new corps, but by raising the complement of the old ones. Thus the troops of the Republic will be in a respectable condition. Our sailors and vessels are likewise to be augmented, circumstances requiring that we should pay attention to that department.

Dublin, Sept. 11. A ship from Boston to Liverpool, which has put into Bantry, to repair some damage, met the Blessed Endeavour transport, with troops from Cork to Penafcola, in Lat. 38:20; who informed them that they had a very tedious and stormy passage; several of their crew were sick, and that they had buried 22 soldiers, and one officer.

L O N D O N.

Sept. 13. The eyes of all Europe are upon the warlike preparations of the Emperor and the King of Prussia. Whether this Armament is for the offensive or defensive, or whether they are going to act in conjunction, or the contrary, is a secret which is only known to themselves.

Letters from Falkland Islands mention, that a party, consisting of 34 Spaniards, had strayed up the country from Magellan as far as Chili, in search of some of the best gold mines, which they found, and which the Chilian Indians had kept concealed from the Spaniards, as well knowing that a discovery would excite in them a greater thirst for conquest, but before they could get back, the Indians seized them, and put every one to death, least they should make their escape, and inform their countrymen where the mines lay.

We hear 3000 men are shortly to be drafted from the marching regiments, and embarked for North-America.

Extract of a letter from an English Gentleman, a volunteer in the army of Field Marshal Count Romanzow, dated at the grand camp, near Silistria, in the province of Bulgaria, on the 30th of June, 1773.

"I EMBRACE the earliest opportunity of transmitting you as authentic an account as it was possible to gain, of the action which lately happened near this place, between our army and that of the Turks, which, from its circumstances, is impossible to be detailed in a very particular manner, and no doubt has already found its way to Europe, under the various disadvantages and misrepresentations which ignorance, partiality, intention, and false information, could give.

"On the 12th instant the main body of our army, under the immediate command of Marshal Romanzow, passed the Danube, bending our march towards Silistria, it being judged of the utmost importance to possess ourselves of that city, as it lies between the principal city of Sophia and the town of Nicopolis, which stands at the mouth of the river Ichar, where it empties itself into the Danube, which town we certainly could command, as it is not fortified, and no troops there, owing to their being drawn off to reinforce the army of the Grand Vizir, who has lost great numbers of men in the skirmishes which have happened since the two armies took the field. Besides, we could draw provisions, &c. from the country about, and could be better able to attack St. Sophia, which is the only place of any importance between this and Constantinople, and consequently was the only remaining impediment to the grand design of attacking the Turk in his own capital. On the 18th we arrived within a mile of Silistria, several engagements having happened between the flying troops of each army, in which the Turks were generally worsted. Our encampment was immediately marched, in which Marshal Romanzow manifested his military skill, by choosing a situation every way advantageous. Some few works were thrown up, and we waited in expectancy of being attacked by the Turks, who, under the command of the Grand Vizir, were cantoned in Silistria, as it would have been a desperate undertaking to have attacked them in such a situation. Finding we did not make any approaches towards the attack, the Grand Vizir, on the morning of the 21st instant, drew out his whole army under the walls, and soon marched up to our intrenchment, which they attacked with incredible fury, but were warmly received, and thrice beaten off by the well pointed discharges of our great guns, which made cruel havoc amongst them, and forced them to retire. The ardour of our troops soon prompted them to follow the retreating Turks, and the general engagement ensued, in which they defended themselves bravely; the officers behaved nobly, especially the Grand Vizir, and the Aga of the Janissaries, who behaved with the greatest intrepidity and courage. However, the courage of the Russians at this time prevailed, and we entered the suburbs with the enemy, who fled from thence within the walls, and there secured themselves. The suburbs soon appeared all in flames, the Cossacks and Tartars had been plundering and murdering every where, and at last set fire to several parts of the suburbs; and notwithstanding the endeavours of Count Romanzow, and all the officers, the Cossacks still continued their violences, and confusion reigned every where; in this situation did the Turks fall upon us, having been, happily for them, unexpectedly reinforced by ten thousand men, under the Bassa of St. Sophia, who had gained intelligence of our arrival before Silistria, and hastened to sustain the Grand Vizir, whose army was really weak. Matters now took a quite different turn, our troops being disjoined, were not to be easily rallied; most of the Cossacks and Tartars were killed by the now victorious Turks, but the rest of the army retired in form to the intrenchments, which proved insufficient to defend us; our men, wearied out with the action of the day, fled before the Turks, and a general rout ensued; our whole army fled towards a wood, a few leagues to the west of Silistria, which was gained, and some intrenchments of boughs, &c. thrown up before the army made the attack, who busied themselves in plundering what was left in our encampment, as we happily got off the best part of our baggage, ammunition, &c. and the greatest part of our cannon. In this wood did we defend ourselves from the repeated attacks of the Turks, and maintained our post, in opposition to their most vigorous efforts. As the night came on they desisted, and retired towards the city, leaving us in full possession of our station, and some of their colours, with many officers of distinction, and five hundred men, taken prisoners in the beginning of the battle. Our loss amounts to two hundred and forty two officers killed and wounded, and four thousand private men, with ten pieces of cannon, two baggage waggons, some ammunition, and most of our tents. The Turks have lost above ten thousand men, besides a number of officers, amongst whom are four Bassas, and the Captain Bassa of the Spahis; so that, upon the whole, the scale of advantage seems rather to preponderate on our side."

Sept. 14. It is said that there will soon be a promotion of General officers on the Irish establishment.

All the senior Captains of the Navy, on half-pay, have received orders to attend the Admiralty Board on Friday next, the 17th instant.

The secularizing the estates belonging to the Jesuits in the Imperial dominions, will augment the Emperor's revenue about $355,555 florins per annum.

It has been said that a certain Duke, who is about going abroad, sent to a Great Personage, to gain his consent, but that no answer was returned: However, it is currently reported that an answer was returned as follows: My consent has never been thought necessary in matters of importance; in trifling matters it is trifling to ask for it.

A letter from Paris says, "after repeated applications from the Porte, the French Ministry have positively declared, that they cannot otherwise assist the Turks, but by their mediation, in concert with other powers."

Sept. 16. The Duke of Devonshire, we hear, will be a great man at Court the ensuing winter.

It may be depended on, notwithstanding what has been recently said to the contrary, that the Court of Great Britain has positively declared of having any thing to do in settling disputes between the Turks and Russians, although the Grand Signor is now about to solicit the favour. This may seem a mystery to many; however, what follows may unravel it: The Empress, on hearing that our Sovereign was to be applied to by the Porte to bring about a reconciliation, immediately informed him what terms she would accommodate matters upon; which were thought at St. James's very unreasonable, and such as his Majesty could not, with any degree of justice, desire the Grand Signor to accept of; therefore concluded, and rightly too, to have no concern with this business.

It is asserted that Governor Hutchinson will still be continued in his Government, notwithstanding all reports to the contrary.

An end is put to the Order of the Jesuits in all the Roman Catholic dominions, which, in all appearance, will be the foundation of a great reformation in Europe.

Lord Holland is said to have lately given the following advice to his son, in a letter wrote with his own hand, on the subject of his political conduct: "Aspire, Charles, to the first employments, but do not aim at being a favourite; that is acquired with difficulty, preserved with anxiety, and lost often with despair."

Sept. 17. If it is true, as is currently reported, that the Dutchess of Northumberland is preferred before any other person to conduct the Queen of Denmark to England, we may naturally suppose that the Duke of Northumberland is in no small degree of favour with a Great Personage; from which we may farther suppose that his Grace will be concerned in effecting an union between England and Ireland (as that work, we hear, is to be brought about in the course of the ensuing winter, if possible) he being so great a favourite with the Hibernians.

Letters from Venice mention, that some Greek Tartans had been seized by the Turks as rebels, and the crews put to death, though they produced a Russian commission, and fought under Russian colours.

It is said a Cabinet Council was held yesterday, to take into consideration the conduct of the King of Prussia towards our merchants; that many spirited measures were proposed, but it was at last agreed to settle it by negotiation.

Extract of a Letter from Whitehaven, September 11.

"The Wells, Rothery, arrived here from Virginia, was, on her passage, two days after leaving the Capes, struck by lightning, and had her foretopmast and foremast shivered to pieces, and some trees near the fluddings started. She made little water, and not much other damage is apprehended from it. The Hartley, who is likewise arrived here from Virginia, had one of her pumps choaked, and some damage is apprehended to her cargo of tobacco."

By the late acquittal of General Gasfel, the public are more universally acquainted with the particulars of that law which applies to the protection of unfortunate debtors in their own chambers, which is, that every room-keeper, having his door secured, is as much intrenched in his castle of defence, and from any arrest in civil matters, as a house-keeper is when his street door is locked. The General, in his defence on Tuesday last, quoted this maxim from Mr. Justice Blackstone; and the Judge, in summing up the evidence to the Jury, observed upon that part, that the General had laid down the law as clear as it could come from Westminster-hall. This, we hope, will prove as much an example to Sheriff's officers in future, as a caution to unfortunate debtors.

Many people having doubted, whether General Gasfel can be legally kept in custody, after his acquittal at the Old-Bailey, it is necessary to inform them, that although the manner of arresting the General was illegal, yet, as he has been actually in custody of a Sheriff's officer, if he is suffered to go at large, the Sheriffs, to all intents and purposes, would be fixed with the debt. The General has his remedy by law against the bailiff, for any illegal conduct in the execution of the process.

The present Parliament will be dissolved in April, and new writs immediately issued out for a general election.

We are assured, that all the accounts of the army, navy, and treasury, are ordered to be made out in their respective departments, preparatory to their being laid before Parliament next session.

It is said, that just after the arrival of the Count de Guignes at Paris, an express was sent off to the Spanish Court, with orders to the courier to return as soon as possible. The King of Spain was at his palace, about ten leagues from Madrid, when the express arrived, and, though at eight o'clock in the evening, he set off for that place, where a council was held that night, and continued sitting till early in the morning; and that soon after a Squadron of seven ships sailed from Cadiz for the Mediterranean, under the command of a rear admiral.

The Irish Parliament will sit for the dispatch of business, on Tuesday, the 12th of next month.

It is reported, that at the next meeting of the Irish Parliament, a bill will be brought in, to prohibit the wearing of chintz and muslins in that kingdom.

Sept. 20. On Friday last were lodged in the Bank 30,000 Dollars, brought from Jamaica by the Guadalupe man of war. This sum, it seems, is in part of 20,000l. prize money, alluded to by Lord North, at the opening the budget of last session of Parliament, and which has been due from the estates of the late Edward Manning, and George Papley, Esquires, ever since the year 1756.

Sept. 21. On Saturday last the Adriatic, one of his Majesty's transports, Captain Mack, arrived at Deptford from Quebec, and brought 150 soldiers, who had been there 11 years, 40 of them had wives, 10 of whom had been delivered in their passage, one with twins, all of them in good health.

Yesterday morning his Majesty, attended by General Harvey, went on horseback from Kew to Woolwich, to see the experiment of firing a cannon, of a new invention, which was discharged 24 times in a minute, and gave great satisfaction to his Majesty and all present.

The Carcass bomb ketch, commanded by Capt. Lutwich, which, together with the Sea-horse bomb ketch, commanded by Capt. Phipps, went, at the end of the spring, in search of discoveries into the Polar Region, particularly to make astronomical observations under the Northern Pole, and to discover a northern passage into the South-Sea, or East-Indies, is arrived on the English coast, and has landed a Pasquet at Yarmouth to the Lords of the Admiralty, containing, among other advices, a journal of their voyage. It there appears, that they have miscarried in their design, from the great impediments and danger that occurred from the floating ice in the northern sea, in consequence of which, the voyagers have not been able to get nearer to the Pole than 81 deg. 39 min. They were several times so embayed in the ice, as to find their situation almost desperate, and were happy to get safe back into the open sea, after having made the strongest efforts, with the utmost risk, to perform their undertaking. They have not, however, sustained any considerable loss, the crews of both vessels being in perfect health, owing most probably to the extraordinary precautions taken in that respect. The Carcass parted from the Sea-horse about ten days ago, and it is presumed she may by this time have reached the mouth of the river, though no advice had been obtained from her on Sunday last.

Letters from Paris mention, that the Sieur Guys, of the Academy at Marseilles, Secretary to the French King, has had the honour to present to his Majesty, on the part of the Chevalier James Bruce, a celebrated English Traveller, with whom he corresponded, an Abyssinian manuscript, which contains the Prophecy of Enoch. His Majesty has ordered that this manuscript, of which St. Jerome makes mention, and which the late Sieur Colbert had searched for in vain, shall be deposited in his Library.

The Comet, a large French Frigate of 36 guns, and 300 men, from St. Domingo, bound to Dunkirk, was lost the 14th instant, in a very hard gale of wind, on the rocks of Scilly, and most of her crew perished.

Sept. 24. A letter from Fort William, in Scotland, dated Sept. 4, says, "On the 1st of this month sailed from hence for America 425 men, women, and children, from Croydat, Lochabar, Appin, and Mammore, &c. &c. They are the finest set of fellows in the Highlands, and it is allowed they carry at least six thousand pounds sterling in ready cash with them."

Sept. 28. Last night there was a numerous meeting of the Livery at the Half-moon Tavern, Cheapside, agreeable to advertisement, for the nomination of two persons to be returned to the Court of Aldermen for the Mayoralty for the ensuing Year. About half an hour after seven the cry for chair, chair, was heard, when Mr. T. Bishop was unanimously chosen Chairman. The business being entered on, Deputy Howse proposed Messrs. Wilkes and Bull, as fit persons for the nomination; which Motion was seconded by Mr. Polhill. Mr. Deputy Judd proposed Messrs. Sawbridge and Oliver, and was seconded by Mr. W. Hurford. Mr. Makkall then proposed the above Gentlemen should be put up in conjunctive Interests, which was objected to by Mr. Younge; but the question was carried almost unanimous in favour of Mr. Makkall's Proposition. The Chairman then nominated the four Gentlemen for the Mayoralty, when there appeared a majority in favour of Messrs. Wilkes and Bull; on which a scrutiny was demanded, in favour of Messrs. Sawbridge and Oliver, which was granted: Deputy Howse and Deputy Pierce, Tellers for Aldermen Wilkes and Bull; and Deputy Judd and Mr. Hurford, Tellers for Messrs. Sawbridge and Oliver; when the return was, for Mr. Wilkes and Bull 119; for Sawbridge and Oliver 102. A Motion was then made, that the Chairman be requested to declare the above Resolutions at the Common-Hall to-morrow, which was carried.

Q U E B E C, October 28.

On the 18th instant the ship Matilda, Captain Blyth, from Philadelphia for this port, ran aground, for want of a pilot, on the point of Alouette, near Saguenay river, about 35 leagues below this place. The Captain of her arrived here last Saturday for assistance, and says, when he left her she had 6 feet water in her hold, and on Sunday evening let off in a schooner to endeavour to get her off, but having lost his anchor and boat at Patrick's Hole, on Tuesday morning, in a gale, and the ship Albany, Capt. Bunyan, which sailed at the same time, having also sustained some loss there, both returned here yesterday afternoon to supply themselves.

B O S T O N, November 13.

Last evening a number of persons assembled in School-street; they broke the windows, and did other considerable damage, by throwing large stones into the house occupied by Richard Clarke, Esq; who is one of the Agents for the East-India Company.

The Selectmen have notified a meeting of the inhabitants of this town, to be this day, at 10 o'clock, upon the expected importation of the Tea.

Nov. 22. On Thursday last there was a Meeting of the Freeholders and other Inhabitants of this Town, when a Committee was appointed to acquaint Messrs. Clarkes, Fanueil and Hutchinsons, that inasmuch as they had declined giving a full Answer to the request of the Town at a former Meeting, till they should have further Intelligence from England, relative to the East-India Company's Tea, supposed to be consigned to them; and as a Vessel had since arrived from London, it was the desire of the Town, that they would now give a final Answer to their Request, viz. Whether they would resign their Appointment? Upon which they sent in to the Town the following Letter, viz.

S I R,
Boston, November 18, 1773.
IN Answer to the Message we have this Day received from the Town, we beg leave to say, that we have not yet received any Orders from the East-India Company, respecting the expected Tea; but we are now further acquainted, that our Friends in England have entered into penal Engagements in our behalf, merely of a commercial Nature; which puts it out of our Power to comply with the request of the Town. We are, Sir,
Your most humble Servants,

RICHARD CLARKE, and SONS.
BENJAMIN FANUEIL, jun. for Self, and
JOHN WINSLOW, Esq;
ELISHA HUTCHINSON, for my Brother and Self.

Hon. JOHN HANCOCK, Esq; Moderator of a Town Meeting, assembled at Fanueil-Hall.

The Answer was voted NOT satisfactory; and the Meeting was IMMEDIATELY dissolved.

Last Friday his Majesty's Council of this Province met by Summons from Governor Hutchinson, to consider a Petition of the Tea-Commissioners in this Town, praying "to resign themselves, and the Property committed to their Care, to his Excellency and their Honours, as Guardians and Protectors of the People," and "that Measures may be directed to, for the landing and securing the Tea, until the Petitioners can be at Liberty openly and safely to dispose of the same, or until they can receive Directions from their Constituents."

The Laws of this Province are made for the Protection of the People and of every Individual. There is no doubt but the People will at all Times be ready to assist the Magistrate in the due Execution of those Laws for the Protection of any Individuals, being in the Peace of God and the King. No Man can be said to be in the 'Peace of God and the King, while he is attempting to overthrow the Civil Constitution, or Compact between the King and the Subject. His Majesty's Council are not, in the Sense of the Petitioners, if they intend any Thing to their Purpose, the constituted Protectors of the People. They are one Branch of the General Assembly; and by the Charter or Constitution they, with the Governor, may hold and keep a Council, for the ordering and directing the Affairs of the Province.

No one, it is presumed, desires them to resign their appointment; on the contrary, as they are too wise a Body to be drawn aside from their appointment by the artifices of designing men, it is justly to be expected that they will in this and all other Instances keep precisely to it. The safety of the Government and of the people depend much upon it. Their department by no means admits of their condescending to become the Trustees and Store-keepers of certain Factors for the East-India Company. As well might they become the Trustees of all the Individuals, and, ex officio, be the Store-keepers of every Store in the province; and this it is to be feared would induce such a multiplicity of private Business, as to leave them no Time to do the Duties of their Department, viz. the ordering and directing the Affairs of the Province.

A Letter from London, of a late Date, advises a Gentleman here not to purchase any of the Tea now coming, as immense Quantities lie rotting in the Company's Warehouses, rotting, which, on our receiving what is now coming, will be also sent.

Another Letter says, twelve Millions weight of Tea has lain for near 7 Years in the India Company's Warehouses, rotting, which, on our receiving what is now coming, will be also sent.

Americans! Defeat this last Effort of a most pernicious, expiring Faction, and you may sit down under your own Vines and Fig-Trees, and none shall hereafter dare to make you afraid.

NEW-YORK, November 25.
Last Friday his Majesty's 47th regiment, commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Nesbit, was reviewed at Perth Amboy, by his Excellency General Haldimand, commanding in Chief, attended by the Gentlemen of the Staff. The appearance of the officers and men induced the spectators to consider them as the sons of those veterans that composed the battalion, whose firmness and discipline, animated by the immortal Wolfe, was so eminently distinguished in the late war.

Nov. 29. It was said in London, that Commissioners for the Sale of the Tea, would be sent out with it.

SPEECH of his Excellency WILLIAM FRANKLIN, Esq; Captain-General, Governor and Commander in Chief, in and over the Province of New-Jersey, and Territories thereon depending in America, Chancellor and Vice-Admiral in the same, &c.

To the GENERAL ASSEMBLY of the said Province, convened at Burlington.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly,

DISCOVERY was made some Time in the Beginning of the last Summer of a Number of Persons, in the Counties of Middlesex and Monmouth, concerned in making a base Kind of Half Johannes and Spanish Dollars, which happily led to the Discovery of another Gang of Villains in the Counties of Morris and Sussex, who had for several Years past been employed in counterfeiting and passing the Paper Currency of this and the neighbouring Colonies. From the Confessions of some of them, corroborated by many striking Circumstances, the Affairs of the Robbery of the Treasury, which had remained so long enveloped in Darkness, has likewise been brought to Light.-----Unluckily some of each Gang have made their Escape out of the Province; but all of the former who were apprehended, and one of the Chief of the latter, have received that Punishment for their Crimes which the Law would permit. Three others, who were sentenced to Death, have been respited, for very particular Reasons, as you will see by the Papers I shall order to be laid before you. No Endeavour have been, or shall be wanting on my Part, to have those who escaped, apprehended and brought to Justice.

As the Mischief in which these Persons were engaged is of such extensive and pernicious a Nature, I cannot but congratulate you upon the Step which has been put to its further Progress: Nor can I doubt but you will think with me, that the Thanks and grateful Acknowledgments of the Public are due to those Gentlemen who have, with great Zeal and Abilities, and with considerable Trouble and Expence, been the Means of detecting and apprehending the Authors of it.

On this Occasion, I think it proper to recommend to you the passing of a Law, to make it Felony to counterfeit, in this Province, the Silver and Gold Coins of foreign Countries. Many of them have now so general a Circulation here, that the Mischief resulting from their being counterfeited, may be as destructive as the counterfeiting of our own Paper Currency.

Gentlemen of the General Assembly,
Besides making due Provisions for the Support of Government, I have to request, that you would grant a Supply for the King's Troops now stationed in this Colony. As I apprehended it would have been very inconvenient to your private Affairs, had I called you together at the Season when the Troops arrived, I desired Major-General Haldimand to let the Barrack-Master-General furnish the Troops with the usual Necessaries supplied by the Province, and gave him Reason to expect that you would, at your first Meeting, provide for any reasonable Expence which might be incurred on that Account. This the General was so obliging as to do, and I trust you will not be deficient in evincing that you have a proper Sense of the Kindness. The Barrack-Master's Accounts shall be laid before you as soon as they can be prepared.

I must likewise recommend it to you to enable me, as soon as possible, to offer such Rewards and Encouragements for apprehending and bringing to Justice the Persons accused of counterfeiting our Paper Currency, and robbing the Treasury, as will become the Honour of the Province and the Importance of the Occasion. For Want of a Fund appropriated to answer contingent Expences, this Province often labours under considerable Disadvantages. In all Probability, if Government had been empowered to hire a Number of active Men to have gone off immediately in different Parties, in Pursuit of those Delinquents, they would ere now have received the Punishment due to their Crimes.

Gentlemen of the Council, and Gentlemen of the General Assembly,
I am never so happy as when I have an Opportunity of promoting the public Welfare, and as I know of nothing which has a Chance to contribute more to that desirable End, than Harmony between the several Branches of the Legislature, I shall not fail to cultivate it as much as may be in my Power, and I flatter myself that I shall, during the Course of the ensuing Session, meet with the same Disposition on your Parts.

Council Chamber,
Nov. 12, 1773.

His master (if he has any) is desired to come, pay charges, and take him away, in three weeks from the date hereof, otherwise he will be discharged, by GEORGE EBERLY.

Whoever takes up the said horse, and brings him to the owner, shall have Ten Shillings reward, or Forty Shillings for horse and thief, and reasonable charges, paid by MICHAEL LINGERFIELD.

STRAYED or STOLEN, from the subscriber, on the 12th instant, a black HORSE, about nine years old, between 14 and 15 hands high, trots and paces, in shod before, and has a few white saddle marks. Whoever takes up the said horse, so that the owner may have him again, shall have TWO DOLLARS reward, and reasonable charges; if stolen, and the thief taken, FIFTY SHILLINGS, paid by GEORGE SHOEMAKER.

TO all persons whom it may concern; Know ye, that I, JAMES McCLELLAN, do intend to apply to the General Assembly of the province of Pennsylvania, at Philadelphia, the 29th day of November instant, to make an act to discharge me from my present confinement, at which time and place you are requested to attend, and make your objection (if any you have) why I should not be admitted to the benefit of the said act, whereof you are desired to take notice. York Goal, November 16, 1773. JAMES McCLELLAN.

Said servant is supposed to be gone off with a certain JOSEPH SILVIAN, by trade a shoemaker, a talkative drunken fellow, and was shipped from the city of Dublin to this country. THE Want of a proper Boarding-School, for the Education of young Ladies, has been long felt, and long complained of, by the People of Pennsylvania, and particularly by those Gentlemen who reside at such a Distance from Philadelphia, as to preclude their Daughters from the Advantages of a City Education: To such then, as well as to the Public in general, Mrs. ROGER has the Honour to address herself, and to acquaint them, that she has just opened her BOARDING-SCHOOL, in Chestnut-street; where she has provided a commodious House for the Reception of such young Ladies, whose Parents may honour her with their Tuition.

She has also engaged proper Masters, to attend in her own House, and under her own immediate Inspection; and she flatters herself, that the Attention she shall pay to the Health, Morals and Behaviour of the young Ladies committed to her Care, will entitle her to the Favour of the Public.

Her Want of Health only, induced her to leave New-York, where she has, for several Years past, kept a Boarding-School, and from whence she has brought a Number of the young Ladies who were her Boarders there, which she hopes will be considered as a Proof of her Reputation and Capacity in the Business.
